PRICE, THREE CENTS

Narberth Bludgeons Gain 22-4 Triumph

Davismen Count in Every Inning; Fleck and Gilfillan Shine.

IN TIE FOR THE LEAD

By John Uberti.
Playing with zealous determination in an endeavor to sever the deadlock in the league the Narberth nine met and buried the Brookline Club in an avalanche of runs on Saturday, the final score being 22-4. The win, however, did not break the tie since Berwyn also conquered Ardmore.

Again the prolific arm of Nick Lyons, erstwhile Lower Merion hurler, laid desolation over the home field of battle, giving Narberth a record in high scoring for the present season and failing by one point to emulate the brilliant feat of Walt Masters last year, when he held the Oakmont nine to two nicks as his teammates submerged them under twenty-three runs.

Scoring in braces in every inning save the sixth, the Davismen basted the pill to all angles of the lot and when the mist of battle had risen the fans found the scoreboard auspiciously bedecked in football scorings.

Robert (Bob) Martin, the best first-baseman that Narberth has ever had, played his usual crafty role of combining ingenuity at first with sprightly footwork over the socks to aid materially in checking the advancement of the rival nine in crucial moments. Burns started a bombardment in the second that ended up a gala day with the hickory as he blasted a circuit blow across the road, accounting for two runs. V. Fleck kept up the good work with the bat as he clubbed a pair of triples and doubles for a high average of .750. Gilfillan also came through in flashing style with three two-ply shots and a single out of five chances. In addition to that, each man accounted for at least one hit and one run, no errors marring the brilliant contest.

Both teams counted once in the opener, but the Davismen started the fireworks in the subsequent canto, when they gathered nine points, sending two rival moundsmen to the showers in that inning. Humphreys walked in the second and Burns uncorked a patented circuit blow to centre. Lyons doubled and Heckle stroled. Harris sacrificed and Fleck ambled, jamming the pathways. Exit Coleman, enter Lockhart. He was somewhat unsteady at the start, but vacillated considerably as the session got under way, striking out both Curwin and Martin, and when he threw wild to Humphreys allowing Gilfillan to tally, he was withdrawn in favor of McCauley. Humphreys met the third pitcher with a clean single and continued on to the Keystone sack when the second baseman threw wild to first, Curwin and the winged-foot Martin counting. Burns reached first on Sullivan's blunder, the veteran skipping to third. Lyons singled, whereupon Mickey barely avoided a double killing, Humphreys crossing. Heckle and Harris sent out skyscrapers to second and centre, respectively. Nine runs, five hits, one error.

Brookline flashed in the third frame, gathering three runs which came from three passes. After that session they never threatened once, while the guns

Seek Donations For Crossnore School

Narberth Hall, Established by Club Gift, Needs Furnishings.

Additional donations of money and clothing are being sought to equip the Baby Department of the Crossnore School, North Carolina, which was the recipient of a gift of $100 from the Woman's Community Club of Narberth recently.

The following note from C. McCoy Franklin, the president of the Crossnore School, to Mrs. Suzanne J. Gill, chairman of the Welfare Committee of the club, expresses appreciation of the club's gift and their plans: "My but I was so happy when I received your good letter today with a check enclosed for $100. This will go a long way toward fixing up the Baby Department of Crossnore School, and we will name this wing the Narberth Hall. This is the first gift we have ever had in Crossnore so far as I know for a baby home. Of course this $100 will not quite furnish this building, but it will go a long way towards making it inhabitable. In the future we hope to have hundreds of babies who have no homes, or practically no homes, who will come here—not only to receive a home, but to receive training in many of the beautiful things of life, and you people are the pioneers in helping us to start this off."

Any people interested in aiding this good work should get in touch with Mrs. Gill, 216 Dudley Avenue, Narberth.

Oakmont Cops Best Ardmore's at Baseball

In the opening game of the recently formed Police Baseball League between the Ardmore force and the Oakmont station, the Ardmore outfit went down to defeat at the hands of the Oakmont coppers by a 7 to 4 score. The game was played at Oakmont.

Four teams comprise the league, Chester and Norristown being the other members.

Fred Walzer is manager and pitcher of the Ardmore outfit, which also numbers in its lineup Lieutenant "Patsy" Mullin, Sergeant Brown, Frank Flynn and J. Utz.

A game is scheduled for Ardmore with the Narberth Firemen tonight (Friday) on the Narberth Playground.

New High For June 19

A new weather record was established last Wednesday which, according to Charles Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau observer, was the warmest June 19 since any day during either June or July, 1926. The mercury reached 95 during the day. Temperatures during the present week have averaged from about 67 to 90 degrees daily. The mean "above normal" average for the week was approximately 10 degrees.

Story Hour Tuesday

The Story Hour Tuesday, July 2nd, will comprise three stories, "Faithful John", "Lucky Stone", and "Fur Ball". The hour will be held at the Library at 4 P. M. and will be given by Miss Church as usual. Mothers are invited.

Berwyn Doubleheader Booked For Fourth

Twin Bill With Ardmore Tomorrow, Crucial Series on Fourth.

PLAY HILLDALE THE 8TH

The baseball schedule for the next week indicates work aplenty for the Narberth Club and enjoyment in good measure for the fans. A double-header with Ardmore tomorrow (Saturday) starts off the culminating series of the first half of the Main Line League.

Monday a twilight game is booked with Morrell at the playground. This will take place as usual at 6:15.

On the fourth a double-header with Berwyn, morning and afternoon games will determine the winner of the first half of league competition. Walter Masters, star hurler of the University of Pennsylvania pitching staff and one of the mainstays of the Narberth Club last season, is slated for mound duty at one of the games, and Graham, who has been doing splendid work this year, will hurl the other. In any event two corking games will transpire with the league title in the balance.

Monday, July 8, will see the Hilldale tribe on the Narberth diamond for the first time this year. This is the club which set the attendance records in games last season and they are as good as ever.

The games on the Fourth will be played at 10:15 and 3:30.

Iona and Haverford Scene of Accident Saturday Night

Failure to give another car the right of way at Iona and Haverford Avenues last Saturday night netted Norman Cooper, proprietor of Cooper Brothers' Fruit and Produce Market, fine and costs of $12.20 before Magistrate H. C. Fritsch, of Narberth.

Mr. Cooper, who was proceeding west on Haverford, collided with a roadster going south on Iona. The roadster, badly banked up, was turned around in the middle of the intersection while Mr. Cooper's sedan had its side dented in and came to rest on the lawn of M. L. Connecen fifty feet from the corner, damaging the hedge and shrubbery.

The roadster was driven by Theodore Rogers, of Frazer, Pa. Medical attention was rendered by Dr. William F. Horan for scratches and minor injuries.

Wyndmoor Surprises, Trimming Narberth

Davismen Outwit Visitors, But Errors Turn the Tide.

MASTERS IS THE LOSER

By John Uberti.

Walter Masters, star moundsmen of the University of Pennsylvania nine, started in auspicious style against the members of the Beaumont League in an interesting twilight game on the Narberth playground Wednesday, downing four men in the first three innings to keep the bags clear of visitors. But in the subsequent canto when Humphreys executed an overthrow to Harris and when Young muffed one at the plate, four unearned runs crossed the pentagon. However, the Davismen were high in spirit throughout the contest, attempting continually to put over a rally. Unlike most games, not a fan left the field after the sixth inning when the score stood 4 to 1. Every one remained until the umpire pronounced the last leave in the finale, at which time Humphreys was left on when the bat pile went into an unusual slump.

Denby opened the surprise package for the Narberth club in the fourth session when he found Walt easy for a free ticket, but when the veteran executed his wild toss to second, allowing Mastroni to get on, he actually paved the way to a pair of easy runs. Denby went to third on this blunder. Wolfe singled, scoring Denby, Mastroni going to third. Mastroni counted off Reape's sacrifice to deep centre and Mahoney singled to centre, Wolfe crossing. Noneman tripped to left centre, whereupon Mahoney tallied the fourth run.

Evils of Tax Laws Exposed by Citizens

Sale of Properties For County Taxes Without Notice Deplored.

MANY CAUGHT IN MESH

The following communication, bearing the signatures of several Narberth residents, calls attention forcibly to alleged evils and injustices of the county tax laws whereby properties may be sold from under the feet of the legitimate owner for delinquent county taxes without any notice being given or any attempt made to collect the taxes. Since the subject is one of general public concern, the editor feels that it is entitled to a position on the front page.

June 24, 1929.

To the Editor of "Our Town":
VALUABLE NARBERTH PROPERTIES SOLD AT RIDICULOUS PRICES
$12,500 property sold for $18.00.
$15,000 property sold for $24.00
Where—Norristown, Pennsylvania.
When—June 9, 1924.

For what — Delinquent County Taxes. Bills were never presented nor was there any attempt made to collect the taxes.

Purchaser—An Italian realtor who makes a business of tax purchases.

Result—Tax purchaser demanding one-third to one-half of the present value of the properties from legitimate owners.

The above facts will come as a severe shock to the conscience of the people of Narberth and of Montgomery County. Yet this very thing has happened to many conscientious citizens of the borough and hundreds throughout the county. Without the owners' knowledge valuable properties have been sold at Public Sale by the County Treasurer for delinquent taxes, giving the property owner no chance to pay the tax. This autocratic procedure on the part of the county government in enforcing literally an archaic and an unreasonable law is nothing short of confiscation.

Until 1924 it was necessary each year to apply at Norristown for a county tax bill, since the county did not and was not required to present a bill. Such a regulation was most unfair, especially to new property owners, who unless by mere chance, knew nothing of this queer law and accepted payment of the school and borough taxes to the local agent as fully discharging all property tax obligations. Far worse than this, however, is the law requiring the county treasurer to

Humphreys, Fleck Help Claw Tigers

Homer and Pair of Doubles Aid Narberth to Win on Monday.

THE SCORE WAS 13 TO 1

Smothering opponents beneath avalanches of runs or being smothered seems to be Narberth's fate on the diamond this year.

Monday it was Narberth's turn and Graham made it his fifth victory by downing the Harrisburg Tigers, 13-1, strong contenders in the American Colored League, and of the same calibre as Narberth's foremost nemesis, Hilldale.

With two men on the bags in the fourth inning, Humphreys, who has been playing ball with the Narberth Club since the day eggs sold at twenty cents a dozen, made a wonderful comeback when he started a flare that chased a moundsmen from the peak by caroming a booming round-tripper to the same location visited by Mickey Burns' circuit blow on Saturday. V. Fleck, whom the Davismen rely on for fatherly advice prior to taking to the plate, dispatched two doubles that helped materially in the one-sided fracas. Three other pioneers of the local clan came through with two nicks each.

After two fruitless innings, during which there were many tense moments, Narberth commenced to decorate the scoreboard with eight runs in the third and three more in the subsequent frames. The fifth and seventh found the score increased by one each. Curwin started this inning with the first hit for the boroughites and Burns beat out his well-placed bunt. Graham was out when he bunted foul on his last strike and when Heckle singled to

Against the Law

Borough authorities at this time of year are besieged with inquiries asking whether or not there is a local law against fireworks.

Under an ordinance passed January 8, 1923, the sale of firecrackers, rockets, torpedoes, roman candles, inflammable balloons, blank cartridges, etc., is forbidden in the borough.

The community fireworks exhibitions on July Fourth have taken the place of private demonstrations.

Ardmore Bank to Take New Charter

Ardmore National Becomes the Third Title and Trust Company.

The Ardmore National Bank has surrendered its national charter, and beginning July 1 will assume the name of the Ardmore Title & Trust Company, operating under supervision of the State banking department. This action follows a vote of the stockholders at a meeting on June 7.

The change in the character of the institution will give Ardmore its third title and trust company, at the same time leaving no national bank in the community. Together with the Bryn Mawr Trust Company, Lower Merion and Narberth now are served by four State banks with two branches and three national banks.

There will be no change in the policy of the bank, according to its officers, save in an expansion of service made possible by the broader provisions of the new charter.

"We plan no change in personnel," said John W. Phillips, president of the bank. "A title department will be added, and the work of the trust department expanded. The banking department, with its auxiliary services, will not be curtailed in any way."

The Ardmore National Bank was organized in 1911. In 1925 a rebuilding program resulted in the present modern building on Lancaster Avenue, facing Anderson Avenue. The bank now has total resources in excess of $3,500,000, with deposits of more than $2,500,000.

ODIORNE—BOTTOMS

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Martin Bottoms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bottoms, of Merion, and Mr. Richard Town Odiorne took place Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock in the Narberth Presbyterian Church. The Reverend John Van Ness, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of ivory satin, made in close-fitting lines with panels touching the floor in the back, and a train extended from her shoulders. Her long veil was made of old lace and tulle arranged in a cap effect with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Maitland Bottoms attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a green organdie gown with a corded skirt short in the front and touching the floor in the back. Miss Marion Bottoms, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a pale yellow organdie dress made in the same style. They both wore large horsehair hats and shoes to match, and carried bouquets consisting of yellow tea rose and old rose sweet william.

The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Jones, Miss Dorothy Cross, Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick and Miss Lois Smith. They wore attractive frocks in shades of orchid organdie with large horsehair hats and shoes to match. Their bouquets were of pink roses and lavender sweet william.

Mr. Alfred Odiorne, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. William Jones, Mr. Robert Barker, Mr. Thomas Jackson, Captain Maitland Bottoms, Mr. Rae Crowthers and Mr. George Bottoms, Jr.

A small reception for the bridal party and immediate families was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

After a trip through Maine and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Odiorne will reside at the Walnut Lane Apartments, in Germantown.

A Protestant Episcopal Sunday School is being conducted at the Scout house Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock. All children are invited to attend.

4th Appeal Brings Fitting Response

Spirit of It Expressed in Letters From Two Contributors.

COMPLETE LIST SOON

A day's delay in getting out the letters requesting everybody's share on the Fourth of July bill makes it impracticable to print this week a complete list of the returns which have been made as Our Town goes to press, as sufficient time was not available for the clerical work involved. The first onrush of the mail was particularly impressive and along with it came several letters which suggest that the desire for a proper observance of the nation's birthday is more than a casual thing with borough residents, and the necessity of general community participation is stressed in each case. From a household on Essex Avenue the following virile thought accompanied a $2 donation:

"I would like to send more, but with bad business I can only contribute your average amount. As a matter of fact, I can scarcely afford that, but when it comes to Fourth of July, and a proper observance of it, my name will only be off the list when they have me under cover, which I hope won't be for a while yet."

A lady on the South Side strikes a similar note in the billet doux which brought her donation:

"I think the mothers should contribute as well as the fathers. That is why I am sending a dollar. We cannot preach patriotism unless we practice it, and I would not want to live in a town which does not provide a proper celebration of the greatest date in American history."

So runs the whole spirit of it all and it is expected that the number of contributors will far exceed the roster of last year. In next week's Our Town the honor roll will be proclaimed in all its glory, a complete list of all subscribers, and meanwhile the clarion call of Paul Revere, brought down to date by the fire-house siren, will again bestir the multitude at 7 o'clock each evening to let them know that the day cometh when men and their ladies shall show forth how mindful they are of what happened in the yesteryear of this America, one of the few occasions when good citizens are called upon to support their patriotic convictions with a little bit of their cash.

Say what can be said, the finest part of the whole thing is the opportunity which is offered to give tangible expression, in a way that is easily understood, to the estimate men and women set on their place in the American scheme of things, and whilst it is not claimed that a $2 donation reflects a $2 conception, it would be reasonable to assume that no concern at all, no inclination to join in with neighbors and townsmen, must be construed as an indifference which would make for a sorry state of things if it were at all widespread.

Fortunately, there need be no fear that Narberth will suffer from any lack of interest, any failure to do the $1-$2-$5-$10-$25 thing which now beckons for their attention, and the Citizens' Committee has assured the American Legion that they can go with full steam ahead in their plans and preparations for the greatest holiday in this borough's history.

Contributions should be sent to J. L. McCrery, treasurer, care of Narberth National Bank, or may be left with any merchants who display the official sign.

COOPER

Estelle LaFaye, wife of Clarence M. Cooper, 6 Elmwood Avenue, died at her home on Monday. She was taken ill Sunday. Funeral services in charge of the Rev. Robert E. Keighton were held at the Baptist Church of the Evangel at 10 A. M. Thursday. Interment took place at Upper Montclair, N. J.

The Day Comes On

Each evening, as the sun is going down over the western hills, we hear the siren at the firehouse rear its beseeching voice in behalf of the collection underway for the Fourth of July celebration.

Early reports indicate that there has been a splendid response to the committee's call and Our Town concurs in the belief that when the final list is published the roster will afford a complete summary of all those men and women in the borough who have been brought up to support their convictions with their cash and not altogether with conversation.

Let the host of contributors be a real Honor Roll, a complete roster of those citizens who can be depended upon to do their share in any community affair which is entitled to general and generous participation.

And if Fourth of July is not a thing of all the people, then what is it?

Berwyn Takes Ardmore
Into Camp, 8 to 3

Noblitt and Doyle shared honors for Berwyn as Ardmore was defeated Saturday, 8-3, in a Main Line League game.

"Jimmy" Noblitt, youthful twirler of the Doyle Nurseries' Boys, was in excellent form and limited the visitors to five bingles. Doyle aided greatly in the triumph with his five hits, a triple and four singles.

Faulk also performed well for the winners, his sensational hitting and fielding bringing applause from the large gathering. Gallagher hit a home run with one man on in the eighth for Ardmore.

Tour Throughout West Virginia and 'Blue Grass'
Region Ends at Picturesque Mammoth Cave

Through the mountains of West Virginia and the "Blue Grass" lands of Kentucky are a network of excellent highways that furnish an attractive vacation trip for motorists at any season, but such a journey is exceptionally pleasant in early summer. The Keystone Automobile Club had mapped a tour through this section with its objective at Mammoth Cave, Ky., one of the world's greatest subterranean wonders.

"The return can be made over the same route, or the travelers may take advantage of the wonderful highways traversing the fertile farm land country of Indiana and Ohio back into Pennsylvania and homeward," says Joseph Murphy, supervisor of the Ardmore branch of the club. "In either instance the tourists will be assured of passing through sections filled with scenic grandeur and the exploration of the famous cave will remain as one of their most treasured memories of travel."

Mammoth Cave owed its discovery in 1809 to a Kentucky mountaineer chasing a wounded bear that sought refuge in this underground fortress. Later exploration resulted, when saltpeter was sought here to manufacture gunpowder to be used in the War of 1812. The men who mined the cave's soil rich in nitre gave to the outside world the first reliable information of the vast extent of the famous cavern.

Through the subterranean world runs Echo River, 360 feet below the surface, and a ride along this stream for more than half a mile in flat boats is a unique experience. As its name implies, the river is one vast resonator, its branching avenues and limestone roof serving as a reflector of every sound intensified many times. In other sections stalactites and stalagmites take the form of fluted columns of festoons and draperies. One formation resembles a starlit sky; another has walls and ceilings everywhere decorated with mimic leaves and flowers. Other attractions are a bottomless pit, a Bridge of Sighs, scores of stones sculptured by nature in forms of cataracts and many other interesting exhibits.

The tour leads from here west over the Lincoln Highway, through Downingtown, Coatesville and Lancaster to Columbia, where the Susquehanna River is crossed to Wrightsville. Continuing through York and Gettysburg the travelers reach Chambersburg.

From Chambersburg National Route 11 is followed south to Hagerstown, where a right turn leads into National Route 40, through Cumberland and Keyser to Uniontown. From here National Route 119 is used south to Point Marion and across the West Virginia boundary. The journey continues into attractive mountain country of the lower Alleghenies, through Morgantown to Clarksburg, where National Route 50 is met. This road is followed to Parkersburg, where it intersects with National Route 21, leading to Charleston.

Leaving the West Virginia State capital over National Route 60 the trail passes through Huntington and across the Big Sandy River into Ashland, Ky., through scenic grandeur of the "Blue Grass" regions. Olive Hill and Mount Sterling are passed into Lexington, the centre of the horse-breeding district of the South. A few mile westward, Frankfort, the Kentucky capital, is reached. Through Shelbyville to Louisville the tour leads to National Route 31 and directly south to the cavern country.

At Elizabethtown a side trip can be taken to Hodgenville, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln. Returning to Route 31 the trail leads to Cave City and Mammoth Cave. To return home through Indiana and Ohio, National Route 31 is followed back through Louisville, across the Ohio River to New Albany and north to Indianapolis. Here National Route 40 runs east through Dayton, Springfield, Columbus, Zanesville, Wheeling and Washington into Greensburg, Pa. From this point National Route 30 carries the travelers back into Chambersburg, where the tour can be finished over the same route on which it started.

Haverford Student Missing

Conflicting stories concerning the fate and whereabouts of Robert M. Doughty, Haverford College student, whose chum, William Bramwell Linn, was found dead from a bullet wound on the eve of graduation, have been published during the last week. Beliefs have been advanced that Doughty, who is missing from his home in Dutchess County, N. Y., is either murdered or a suicide. The latest theory, advanced by Doughty's father, is that the youth has obtained employment in the vicinity of Philadelphia.

really works—and works well, has been discovered by the several customers who purchased this equipment from us while the furnace-feeding season was still on. Every installation has given the genuine pleasure, satisfaction and comfort promised for it—and our community now contains numerous fortunate owners of Electric Furnace Men, revelling in the thought of safe, automatic heat at a low operating cost.

You can have the same sense of satisfaction by adding this equipment to your furnace. Remember, it burns buckwheat coal, automatically fires the furnace and takes out the ashes.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

This is the sixth and last of a series of articles inspired entirely by the contributor's own views and ideas.

Prohibition

We have examined all angles of the background and realization of national prohibition and have seen how it has worked out thus far. We have seen advantages, which might have occurred without prohibition, and we have seen abuses and tragedies directly caused by it.

Having found some evil as a result, shall we repeal the law and enter a period of self-indulgence heightened and made more debauched by the long period of dryness? I believe that such a measure would bring infinite harm to citizens of our country and would never vote for such a measure.

Shall we have a modified law? My own inclination is to say "yes." The saloon was an evil and should never be reinstated. Drunkenness is ugly, wasteful and hard on "innocent bystanders" and reduces human efficiency. It should be discouraged. Prohibition has not stopped it. Our present law happened too suddenly to be enforceable and was too stringent. While drinking is now illegal, it is not immoral, and since it is obvious that it will continue it should be supervised and controlled. This cannot be accomplished by a government playing hide-and-seek with its customs men and bootleggers. The bootlegger is a menace and should go. If prohibition is modified to meet public approval, he can no longer flourish. Naturally he wants prohibition to stay.

What should I advocate? The permission of each section to determine for itself whether it will be damp or dry. There is no reason why dry Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Ohio and many other States should have alcoholic beverages if they do not want them. I further believe that there is no reason why New York, Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, San Francisco and countless other cities should not have these beverages in a mild form if the main body of the populace desires them.

Therefore, I should have the Government conduct the manufacture and sale of wines and beers where they are desired, taxing their use heavily, and further make it a misdemeanor to drink in public except with meals. It would be a serious civil offense to appear in public intoxicated. I would lock up every drunken driver for thirty days to a year or more according to the seriousness of his offense. No such beverages would be sold except on permit, and none would be sold in lots of less than a sealed bottle outside of hotels and restaurants with meals.

We have tried for over ten years to bend the people to a law. If the result has been satisfactory, I have been with and seen only very lawless people. It seems that the time has come to consider bending the law to meet the natural desires and inclination of the citizens. Nothing else will terminate this horrible period of lawlessness and youthful debauchery that all of us who have children fear so greatly. Nature will assert herself with or without our legislative assistance sooner or later, and it is better to have a wise and just law enforced than to have a severe and unreasonable law constantly broken and held up to ridicule.

If there is a better solution, I hope you will start to write this column next week and tell the readers what it is. It is easy to say human beings should not be governed by their appetites, but all of us who have observed a cycle or two of civilization roll by know that this is always a tender spot with all of our fellows.

—and so, Mr. President, and gentlemen of Congress, I ask that reason and human sympathy be invoked to revise and rededicate a law that threatens the heart of our country.

'Twas Stuart, Not George

In a story in last week's issue on the banquet of the Merion Boy Scouts the name of one scout appeared erroneously. Stuart N. Mills, 11 Hampden Avenue, Narberth, and not George Mills, is the correct name of the youth who, was one of the three to receive the scoutmaster's award for best advancement during the year. Scout Mills was the first to receive the Eagle Badge, the highest rank in scouting, in the Merion troop. He received this award on May 28 at the Philadelphia Court of Honor. He is also one of the eight scouts from the Merion troop who will attend the International Jamboree abroad this summer.

OUR FLAG

Whose heart does not thrill at the sight of the flag?
Every heart that is loyal and true is filled with delight at the glorious sight
Of our flag, with its red, white and blue.

Tears spring to our eyes as we reverently gaze
As it gracefully floats in the air.
For beauty of color and pleasing design
No flag on this earth can compare.

We are sad when we think what it cost to defend it,
What sorrow and anguish and pain:
The horrors of war, too great to be mentioned,
The noble young men, who were wounded and slain.

We hope never more to be called to defend it,
But that in the future some way will be found
When things that are wrong may be made to come right
Without either bloodshed or having to fight.

When reason, instead of the sword, shall avail;
And right, and not might, shall forever prevail;
When weapons of warfare no more shall be made,
And the pride of our manhood laid low in the grave.

When the sweet "Dove of Peace" shall descend from above,
And nations shall dwell in friendship and love,
When war shall be outlawed and all fighting cease,
And the war-weary world shall rest in its peace.

Historical Society Re-elects Its Officers

President Hoover has been elected an honorary perpetual benefactor of the Valley Forge Historical Society in recognition of his services to his fellowmen. He is the fourth president to be given this honor by this society, which held its eleventh annual meeting at Valley Forge on Wednesday, June 19, 1929, when it celebrated the 151st anniversary of the evacuation of Valley Forge by Washington and his army.

The following officers were re-elected: President, Rev. W. Herbert Burk, D. D.; vice presidents, Arthur Emmons Pearson, Mrs. Hervey C. Gresh, Rev. D. Rhea Coffman and J. Aubrey Anderson; secretary, Marjorie L. Caswell; treasurer, Miss Annie B. Molony; Executive Board, Mrs. A. S. Buchanan, Mrs. N. Howland Brown, Mrs. F. H. Harjes, Jr., Frank Quigg, Dr. W. H. Read, Mrs. Henry Tetlow, Henderson Supple, Mrs. Louise Emery and Miss Nina B. Read.

The society now has 3281 adult members and 47781 boys and girls in Valley Forge Legion, the junior branch of the society. This army of 50,000 men and women, boys and girls, is devoting itself to the development of the Valley Forge Museum of American History. Last year there were 40,410 paid admissions to the Museum, and the entire amount was expended in the purchase of relics and the enlargement of the Museum. Of course, all schools, colleges and organizations are the guests of the Society. The society is now raising the money to enlarge the recently-built Sesquicentennial wing.

Haverford Township Stages Big Parade

"Haverford Township Day" was celebrated Saturday when an automobile parade a mile long moved along the streets of the township and gave the residents an insight into the various activities of the township government.

Headed by the Board of Township Commissioners, led by its president, Thomas Weidemann, and the Board of Education, under its president, S. Herbert Lyons, the parade included delegations from the various offices of the township government, Haverford Township policemen, under Captain Samuel Seigle; floats on which school children depicted various educational activities, bands and fire companies from Brookline, Llanerch, Manoa, Oakmont and Bon Air.

House Plans on Exhibit Another Week at Library

An exhibit at the library which has attracted considerable attention during the past two weeks was submitted by Miss Gassner, Art Instructor of the Narberth Public Schools, as the work of the pupils of the eighth grade. The project presented to the pupils was to draw to scale a plan for an eight-room house showing front and side elevations.

The plans selected by Miss Gassner as illustrating the most careful workmanship and embodying the most practical features of a house of moderate size were sent to the library for display during the closing days of school. For the benefit of those who have not already seen them, they will remain on exhibit for one week longer.

Central halls and sun porches were not forgotten in the plans, closet space was provided for, and plenty of doors for intercommunication of rooms. The names of the youthful architects are as follows: Ned Bartlett, Arthur Wright, Charles Keim, Tom Murray, Sturgis Poorman, Edwin Fittipaldi.

Windsor Avenue, Curwin counted. Harris struck out, but Fleck doubled, shipping in Mickey. Gillfillan doubled. Heckle and Fleck counting. Masters walked, Gillfillan stealing third just before the fourth ball reached the catcher, arriving safely on a close play. When the guard on the keystone bag muffed the catcher's assist intended to run down Masters, Gilly crossed the plate. Humphreys touched Tyler for the second hit of the inning for a single, Walt scoring from the bingle. The line-up started on its second round to the plate at Curwin came to bat again and dispatched a hard-hit two-ply shot and Burns reached first on the first-baseman's error, the vet counting from the blunder. Burns stole cleverly as Graham passed a called ball. Graham singled over short, Curwin tallying from the hit, and Heckle forced Graham off second for the final out. Eight runs.

Graham curbed the Tiger in the foreign half of the fourth and the Davismen tallied thrice in their half. Fleck doubled for the second time and Gillfillan singled, forcing Vernie off third. Masters ambled and Humphreys hit a home run, emptying the lanes.

The Harrisburg Tigers, who were held to six dispersed hits, scored their lone tally of the game in the fourth, a pair of free passes and a pair of bingles doing the trick. Gordon replaced Tyler on the mound in the home half of this inning.

Evils of Tax Laws Exposed

sell, at PUBLIC AUCTION, all properties within three years of the return of the county tax unpaid.

In the case of unseated (undeveloped) property no attempt to collect the tax is made and no notice is given the owner that his property is to go to the "auction block." Notice of the impending sale need only be printed in three county papers (naturally, obscure ones which few citizens read). There is slight chance then that the owner will become aware of this procedure until the tax purchaser demands his "BLOOD MONEY." A property developed between assessment years is put over the same hurdles as an unseated property.

The injustice of the whole situation extends much further. In this county properties are assessed every three years, 1918-1921-1924, etc. Now to demonstrate how property rights are violated by the present laws governing property taxes, the case of a Narberth resident, typical of many others, will be described:

An undeveloped lot was bought in May, 1922, for $2000. A house costing $8000 was erected on this lot between June and November of the same year. Tax bills, as you know, are presented in August, but since the property was assessed as unseated in 1921, the last previous assessment year, no attempt was made by the county to collect the 1922 tax bill for which, of course, was never presented. The new owner paid the school and borough tax presented by the local tax agent, but knew nothing of the small tax of $2.10 due the county. It was not until the fall of 1924 that the owner was called upon by a gruff tax agent, who presented a bill for unpaid county taxes. The agent levied upon a rug and sofa at that time—the bill was promptly paid. This was the owner's introduction to county taxes and he believed that the payment of this bill squared accounts, but actually it covered only 1923, leaving 1922 taxes unpaid.

A change in the law effective in 1924 required local tax agents to present bills for county taxes with those for school and borough taxes. This was a step in the right direction, but it did not correct past injustices, which are now bearing fruit. What more humiliating and shocking experience could anyone be expected to bear than that which literally dozens of property owners have had forced upon them in the last few months? Let us follow the story to its black conclusion.

In 1927 an addition costing $5000 was added to this Narberth property, but this property now worth $15,000 had been sold by the county treasurer on June 9, 1924, for the 1922 county tax amounting to $2.10. An Italian realtor had bought it in at the sale for $24. The owner, of course, knew nothing of this sale, no attempt having been made by the county to collect the tax and no notice having been given of the impending sale. In August, 1925, the sale is reported to have been recognized in Court, but the prothonotary's minutes of that day are missing. The county treasurer in November, 1927, issued a deed to the tax purchaser. All of this "back stage" work took place without any county official raising a hand to help the owner who was completely unaware of all this. By November, 1928, any opportunity to redeem the property had been forfeited. In January of this year a shabby individual called upon the occupant of the property (no longer the owner with clear title) and exposed the situation, demanding $7500 for title settlement. It is the policy of the tax purchaser to demand from one-third to one-half of the present value of the property and get it.

These human leeches, devoid of a moral code, prefer to live upon the good citizen who through years of conscientious effort has built his modest home, but who now, through some unfortunate circumstances not of his own making, finds his property in jeopardy and himself either in danger of losing it or borrowing heavily upon it in order to again establish a clear title. The present situation is alarming to those of us who are caught in its mesh, but if its rottenness will arouse the electorate to correct our faulty tax laws then much good will come out of it.

Is it asking too much of our county government to require the proper county official to give each succeeding owner of a property, upon registering the deed, a certificate that will once and for all insure him against any tax irregularities of the past, presenting at that time a bill for all unpaid taxes? Has not a property owner in arrears on taxes (especially one living on the property) the right to receive one or more formal notices of impending sale at least thirty days in advance of the date set for sale? Why should we be driven to independent agencies (Title Companies) and pay them a handsome fee in order to obtain protection, which should be one of the first duties of our government?

We must look to the State and county governments for the necessary changes in and the proper administration of our tax laws. They must be made to feel the weight of opinion of an outraged public. If our County Commissioners will not act in our behalf we must conclude that they are unsympathetic toward the public good and are willing to allow this legalized violation of property rights to continue—remember this at the next election.

If our tax laws now prevent a repetition of the case cited above, well and good; if not, what about it, Commissioners of Montgomery County? We look to you for an answer.
